

SAF Metal Fabrication for Functional, Innovative Metal Architecture

Southern Aluminum Finishing is unique because it offers so many services from a single source. Our never-ending commitment to customer service has made us a vital resource to our customers for 60 years. How can SAF help you?

SAF is a fully integrated company that purchases coil and extrusion direct from the primary aluminum mills. We cut-to-length, custom fabricate and finish material... anodize, paint, powder coat with computerized color matching as required. This means that you enjoy the benefits of increased coordination, continuous attention to quality and the best possible price from a single source.

We maintain an enormous stock of aluminum sheet and extrusion, and are assured of almost daily delivery of other items stocked by other distributors, such as steel sheet metal. Our full range of metal fabrication equipment is second to none and we have the ability to custom-finish aluminum products to order.

Southern Aluminum Finishing Company's Metal Fabrication

Division offers expanded, full-service metal fabrication services for architectural products.
